

LECTURER/SENIOR LECTURER IN BANKING

University of Sydney Business School

Reference No. 106/0116

- Opportunity to contribute to teaching and research in banking and work in a collaborative and supportive environment
- Full-time, continuing: $114K - $160Ka. which includes leave loading and up to 17% super
- A salary supplement may be negotiated with the successful applicant

The University of Sydney Business School is regarded as a leader in the region, and is one of the very few Australian schools to hold business and accounting accreditation from AACSB International and EQUIS accreditation from the European Foundation for Management Development. It is also the only Australian member school of CEMS, the Community of European Management Schools & International Companies.

The Business School has an outstanding international reputation in management research, learning, development of resources, and journal publishing and works in close cooperation with industry, government and the not-for-profit sectors. It is situated in a new $180m state-of-the-art learning environment which, in the highly competitive global market for business education, will further enhance its ability to attract the best and brightest students, staff and researchers from around the world.

The Discipline of Finance is highly regarded (ranked, over the last two years, in the top 20 in the world by QS World Rankings) and is highly collegial. The successful applicant will join a dynamic group teaching in a large course work program for both undergraduates and postgraduates. Current research and teaching covers banking, behavioural finance, corporate finance, derivatives, international finance, investments, quantitative finance, real estate finance, risk management and security market microstructure. The Discipline of Finance has a strong financial position, a very active and well supported research program and has achieved considerable success in external research funding. There is a large honours program and a large PhD program. The Discipline is a CFA® Program Partner.

We are seeking applicants for the position of Lecturer/Senior Lecturer in Banking. Applicants working in any major area(s) falling within theoretical and/or empirical banking are encouraged to apply.

In this position you will:

- teach banking units at undergraduate and postgraduate levels to culturally-diverse student cohorts, and provide curriculum development in banking
- make a contribution to the research strengths of the discipline, including the pursuit of research grants and regular publication in journals of high standing

- supervise research higher degree students
- be involved in interdisciplinary collaborations within the University and with external stakeholders
- contribute to academic administration.

To be successful you will need:

- a PhD in Banking/Finance
- expertise in any major area of banking
- to provide evidence of high quality teaching and the ability to contribute to course development in undergraduate and postgraduate banking programs
- an active research program in major areas of Banking with significant potential for future publication including an already established research record of publications in high quality refereed journals
- competency in administration including course and program administration
- the ability to work successfully in a team and a commitment to a collegial approach
- to engage with industry and professional bodies in order to develop innovative teaching programs and expand the school's program of professional and industry research collaboration.

This position is your opportunity to join a high calibre, dynamic group that is well resourced, is very research active and teaches a wide variety of finance and banking courses that attract the very best students from Australia and internationally.

To be considered for this position it is essential that you address the online selection criteria. For guidance on how to apply visit: How to apply for an advertised position.

Remuneration package Level B: $114,015K - $135,391K p.a. (which includes a base salary $96,344 - $114,407 p.a., leave loading and up to 17% employer's contribution to superannuation).

Remuneration package Level C: $139,664K - $160,896K p.a. (which includes a base salary $118,017 - $136,082 p.a., leave loading and up to 17% employer's contribution to superannuation).

The level of appointment will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. A salary supplement may be negotiated with the successful applicant.

Specific enquiries about the role can be directed to Associate Professor Suk-Joong Kim, Chair of Finance at sukjoong.kim@sydney.edu.au

Enquiries regarding the recruitment process can be directed to Kristy Fairweather on +61 2 8627 1217 or at kristy.fairweather@sydney.edu.au

CLOSING DATE: 11.30pm 30 March 2016

The University is an equal opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity and social inclusion. Applications from equity target groups, including women and people with disabilities are encouraged. As the University of Sydney has established a scheme to increase the number of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff employed across the institution, applications from people of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander descent are also encouraged.

The University reserves the right not to proceed with any appointment.

Selection Criteria

How to apply:

- Start your application by clicking the "begin" button.
- Login to an existing account or reset your password
- Preview Application Form